Search

What am I searching?

ArticlesPlus searches many millions of scholarly articles, newspaper articles, e-books, government documents, and more. It combines hundreds of online databases (like JSTOR and Web of Science) into a single search box. See more about ArticlesPlus.

Advanced Search

Where else can I search?

To get started, visit the library homepage (library.ucla.edu). Then, click on the "ArticlesPlus" tab and type your search terms into the box.

Search Tips:

- Use quotation marks to search for phrases (e.g. "eminent domain")
- Use AND, OR, NOT in ALL CAPS to combine search terms.
- Use an asterisk (*) as a wildcard (e.g. *lab*r* will find both labour or labor and *psycholog** will find psychology, psychological, psychologically, etc.)

ArticlesPlus has powerful search filtering tools on the left side of the screen that help you narrow your search results:

- You can limit your search results to peer-reviewed articles or search for a particular type of information (e.g., just books, government documents, or newspaper articles).
- You can also narrow your search results by discipline to focus on a particular field of study.
- The publication date filter is an easy way to narrow your results by date.
